IDLENESS SPREADS WITH MINES CLOSED

MINERS' CLOTHES hang uncalled for in the wash house at the National No. 1 mine of the Frick Coke Co. in Morgan, Pa., as the nation's 480,000 United Mine Workers strike in 19 state in protest against a threat to their welfare fund. (International Soundphoto)

Lewis Keeps Mum While Storm Rages

First Violence Is in Kentucky; Walkout Covers Ohio Coal Fields

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20—(AP)—Developments in the nationwide United Mine Workers walkout came fast as lightning today—and unemployment from the stoppage passed the half-million mark.

Nearly all of Lewis' 480,000 dues payers stayed away from the pits for the second consecutive day.

Coal-hauling railroads said they are furloughing 26,000 employees.

In rapid-fire order there were reports of violence in Kentucky and West Virginia. Governor William Tuck of Virginia took a verbal swipe at Lewis, and so did two of the top men in the coal industry.

Lewis took it all in. He didn't say a word. And there was no indication from UMW headquarters at Washington whether he'd show up for the scheduled resumption of contract negotiations with the Southern Coal Producers' Association at Bluefield, Va.

The southerners are the thorns in Lewis' side. Operators from the south have refused to continue paying 20-cents-a-ton royalty payments into the UMW's welfare and retirement fund.

Welfare Problem

Last week trustees of the fund said they were forced to cut off the $100-a-month pensions and other welfare benefits to soft coal diggers.

Reaction from Lewis and his men was as fast as a double play in baseball. Lewis told the southern operators they were wrong in their contention lapse of the contract June 30 released them of their obligation to keep up the royalties.

The bushy-browed labor chief then threw the ball to his men. They studied the issue briefly and stayed at home yesterday.

It wasn't long before industry stepped into the battle.

Joseph Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers, called the UMW fund a "Frankenstein," adding:

"If continued as it has been in the past, it will wreck both the coal industry and the union itself."

Reason Disputed

And Moody said suspension of the fund's payments wasn't caused by the southern operators' refusal to keep up their payments.

"The reason is that the fund was established on an unsound basis and that it has been operated in a manner that inevitably led to its collapse."

George H. Love, head of the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Company, and operator spokesman for the National Bituminous wage conference, backed Moody to the limit. He said the walkout is "wholly unjustified," adding:

"This is the old United Mine Workers' pattern of creating a national emergency to force the public to pay more for coal."

First Violence

As Moody and Love were preparing their statements, reports of the first violence came from Kentucky and West Virginia. No one was hurt badly but some 20 shots were reported fired at a strip mine truck in Kentucky. Two riders abandoned the vehicle as it crashed over a mountainside.

In one case the entire personnel of a monastery was reported seized. In another the staff of a theological seminary were taken, together with their office printing equipment.

A-Bomb Discussions Opened By U. S., Britain and Canada

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—(AP)—The United States, Britain and Canada open negotiations today for a new agreement on (1) exchanging atomic secrets and (2) sharing the uranium from which the A-bomb is made. Their war-born A-bomb partnership is at stake.

The negotiations at this stage are wholly "exploratory" because President Truman has promised he will not make any commitments until after consulting Congress.

In an atmosphere that was only slightly less than completely secret, representatives of the three governments were called together at the state department (1:30 P. M. EST).

American officials are closely restricted as to what they can do or say about atomic energy information—even within the conference with the British and Canadians. They are reported anxious to try to bring some three-way understanding as to the progress each nation has achieved in atomic energy and atomic bomb research and development in the past two years or so.

Yet their own hands are not free for such an exchange and presumably they would be unable to tell the British and French, for example, the size of the U. S. atomic bomb stockpile or the power and effectiveness of the latest model weapons.

operator, said she heard McCrery cry out over an inter-communications system phone:

"Don't shoot me! Don't shoot me!"

Mrs. Chersold said she heard four shots.

Conlin told Lt. Smith he fired "three or four shots." McCrery, after five hours in surgery, still was reported in critical condition. Two or four bullets which struck him passed through his abdomen.

Conlin told police he and McCrery married South American sisters. Mrs. McCrery, mother of two children, was a South American actress.

Conlin said he worked for the Master Vibrator Co. from 1944 to 1946 as South American representative for the firm.

He told police he went to see McCrery "to straighten out a few financial arrangements." Lt. Smith quoted him as saying:

Maintaining grim silence, John L. Lewis, president of the UMW, arrives at the mine union headquarters in Washington D. C., to map strategy for the welfare fund fight.

Lot of Suggestions

Ching told reporters he will have a "lot of suggestions to make" as the pension-insurance issues get boiled down in the talks. He called both sides in again today (9 A. M., EST).

Mr. Truman was reported as disturbed by one report that he intended to step into the steel dispute again. His aide said this was untrue, that he had "absolutely no plan."

This same official said Mr. Truman was concerned with the dark turn of the labor situation generally including the strikes in the coal industry and on the Missouri Pacific Railroad, and seeming lack of progress in Ford Motor Co. negotiations. He said the president had no plan to try to stop the coal strike unless it dragged on a month or two.

In steel, Murray lieutenants were checking reports that Ford had offered the CIO United Auto Workers an employer-paid pension plan costing eight cents an hour per worker. They hoped to use it as an argument with steel firms.

The steel industry has balked at putting into effect a 10-cent pension-insurance plan recommended by a presidential fact-finding board to be wholly paid by employers. Steelmen contend that workers should bear part of such welfare costs.

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 20—(AP)—Miss Margaret E. Baker announced today her resignation from the Republican state central committee.

The resignation, made in a letter to state GOP Chairman Ray Bliss, was effective yesterday. She had held the committee post since 1936.

She also announced her resignation from the Clark County Republican central and executive committees, effective next Saturday.

Miss Baker said she didn't want to sever connection with the local groups until after their dinner here Friday night for Congresswoman Clarence J. Brown of Blaine, Brown is Republican national committeeman for Ohio.

Miss Baker said the press of business prompted her resignation. She is president and treasurer of the Champion Company, a steel fabricating plant here.

"There is no significance in the actions except to lessen my responsibilities," Miss Baker told newsmen.

Motion Filed for New Trial for Hawkins

HILLSBORO, Sept. 20—(AP)—Motion for a new trial for Hansford L. Hawkins, 57, convicted of second degree murder in the June 9 slaying of Paul Young of Seaman, O., was filed in Highland County common pleas court yesterday. No date has been set for a hearing on the motion. Hawkins was convicted Saturday.

Two Young Negro Gunmen Kill Cop

CHICAGO, Sept. 20—(AP)—A policeman was shot and killed on a south side street early today by two young Negro gunmen who pumped nine bullets into his body without saying a word.

Policeman David F. Heating, 34, was slain after he stopped to question the youths about a package one of them was carrying.

Immediately, scores of policemen were sent into the stockyards district to hunt for the slayers. Some 60 policemen, directed by Capt. Ray Crane, chief of the uniform police, searched the area throughout the early morning hours. Some 20 suspects were brought in for questioning.

Dayton Man Shot over Money Row

DAYTON, Sept. 20—(AP)—H. E. McCrery, 53, well-to-do president of the Master Vibrator Co., was shot and critically wounded late yesterday in his office in downtown Dayton.

Dayton Police Lt. Fred B. Smith said T. J. Conlin, 59, of San Francisco, a brother-in-law of McCrery's wife, readily admitted he did the shooting.

No charges were filed immediately.

World's Financial Turmoil Continues---Britain Is Jittery

(By the Associated Press)

Flurries of wild trading broke out today on the crowded floors of stock exchanges in some of the world's money centers in the wake of Britain's historic devaluation of the pound and the subsequent cheapening of their money by 18 other nations.

In London, the exchange reopened after Monday's enforced holiday. Black-frocked brokers jammed the exchange floor at opening time. Gold, oil, rubber and industrial issues changed hands in huge blocks. Shares began a downward plunge toward the new cheapened pound, now worth $2.80. Government bonds started with gains of five to ten shillings.

The same sort of excitement ran through exchanges in Rome, Milan and Johannesburg, South Africa. The Italian money markets saw violent fluctuations in the price of the lira. In South Africa, the exchange was a Tower of Babel as brokers struggled to handle thousands of orders for gold pouring in from every corner of the world.

Trading in foreign issues was barred in Paris.

The free currency market, which opened in the afternoon, was restricted to dollar transactions until further government order. The dollar opened, as predicted, at 350 francs. It closed 330.80 on Friday.

In Sydney, Australia, gold was the darling of traders. Twenty thousand shares in eighteen different gold companies changed hands during a bewildering morning session. As news of the worldwide gold increase got around, the demand skyrocketed. The effects of Britain's far-

President Keeps Out Of Tense Negotiations To Avert Steel Strike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—(AP)—Word from the White House that President Truman has no plan in mind for again averting a steel strike put the problem definitely up to labor-management negotiators today.

A top presidential aide said privately Mr. Truman is convinced there will be a steelmaking stoppage at midnight Saturday unless the industry and CIO Steelworkers Union reach an agreement by then.

That seemed to rule out any new administration request for a truce.

Philip Murray, head of the CIO and the million-member Steelworkers Union, said the men will strike Saturday unless the industry agrees to a company-financed welfare plan.

These developments came as government conciliators pushed their efforts to break the steel labor stalemate before the deadline.

Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, hinted that he may have a peace plan or two to toss at the hotly-arguing steel firms and union.

*I have completed many major furniture auctions throughout the country this year and have several yet to go, so I came home for a short rest, but my boss, who also happens to be boss of King-Kash informed me it was time for King-Kash to have another history making sale. What Will Be Future 'Normal' of Colleges

Most colleges and universities expect to be about back to normal this academic year, after almost a decade of turmoil caused first by the uncertainties and special needs of war and then by the avalanche of students after the war. They expect to be back, at any rate, to what appears to be the new normal, which may or may not resemble the pre-war period in the total of students.

Will the institutions ever be quite the same again? In another year or two most of the military veterans will be gone from the campuses, but they will leave their mark. In every school where substantial numbers of them attended, they set new standards of scholarship, behavior, and application to the fundamental purposes of higher learning. Surely those influences will not disappear with the veterans.

It is expected that enrollments will tend to be higher than in the thirties, probably permanently. It may be expected also that higher standards of scholarship and achievement will be expected of the future student. There is some talk among educators of raising the entrance age because of the obvious advantages to the student of another year or two of maturity and experience before beginning the college career. The "normal" situation of a college a few years hence may be quite different from that of 1938.

Insurance Dividends

Is the payment of the special dividend of nearly three billion dollars to holders of World War II National Service Life Insurance being manipulated for political purposes? The charge has frequently been made that the time of making the payments was deliberately delayed until 1950 in order to hand out a bonanza to veterans in an election year. Insiders deny this, saying the physical task of processing applications and writing checks determined the payment date.

Now the Veterans Administration, without any fanfare or advance notice, has begun to pay a dividend of forty millions to 435,000 World War I veterans. It is not connected, the administration said, with the dividend on World War II insurance. If there were any political significance to the timing of the payments to veterans of the second war, the VA passed up an excellent chance to hand out election-year checks to first war veterans, as well.

Training Veterans

There is considerable criticism of the new federal act which prevents further enrollments of war veteran students under the so-called G.I. training bill in schools established less than one year. The action was taken by Congress as the result of complaints against incompetent, fly-by-night schools which were set up solely to get a bite of this juicy federal plum. But the flat banning of newly established schools is a lazy and illogical action, since the veterans' training program was itself responsible for a genuine need for new trade schools.

It would seem that the situation could be met by directing the Veterans Administration to make sufficient investigation of a school, before certifying it, to protect the student and government against fraud and incompetence.

The prevailing notion among the gentry of the nation is that equality is a matter of law.

The suggestion has been made that a well-fed race of human beings might lose its initiative.

What's New in Bubble Gum, Pal?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(AP)—A Brooklyn chemical engineer has a job any kid in America might envy—he tests bubble gum all day long.

He gets paid for it, too. "It took me two months to blow my first bubble," said Dr. Morris Nafash, research director for the Bazooka Bubble Gum Company.

Now I blow about a hundred a day. But he has a twelve-year-old son who can beat him.

It is his duty to test the texture and elasticity of the gum and to develop new flavors. He came to his post after eleven years as research associate of Columbia University's department of chemical engineering.

"At first, I didn't see how I could keep busy," said Dr. Nafash, a small, dark, earnest man of 49. "But I have found bubble gum a real challenge. It takes all the scientific knowledge I have. You'd be amazed at the research going into this penny product." Fortunately, American inventive genius got started first, and the United States now has at least a five-year-edge over Soviet Russia in bubble gum production.

Politics of Legal Decision?

By George E. Sokolsky

Mr. Justice Douglas of the United States Supreme Court is simultaneously a member of that bench and a candidate for the presidency of the United States. In 1948 Mr. Truman tried to get him to run for vice-president, but Douglas shied away from that honor on the assumption that Harry could not be elected.

Mr. Justice Douglas expresses his philosophy in his decisions. In the case of the Standard Oil Company of California vs. the United States, the opinion of the court was written by Justice Felix Frankfurter, who, however we may quarrel with his political activities, is among our sounder jurists. If his conduct were as steady and as wise as his law, he would be among the really great men of our generation. In this particular case, Frankfurter said:

"Congress has not left at large for determination in each case the ultimate demands of the 'public interest,' as the English lawmakers, considering and finding inapplicable to their own situation our experience with the specific prohibition of trade practices legislatively determined to be undesirable, have recently chosen to do."

This is sound law. Frankfurter, through the majority decision, maintains that the supreme court of the United States is not a legislative body and should not arrogate to itself such authority.

Mr. Justice Douglas begins his dissent not with a statement of law, but with obiter dicta on unrelated matter, issuing contestable slogans as though they were matters of fact:

"...As a result of the big business philosophy underlying (specified supreme court decisions) ...big business has become bigger and bigger. Monopoly has flourished. Cartels have increased their hold on the nation. The trusts wax strong. There is less and less place for the independent."

"The full force of the anti-trust laws has not been felt on our economy it has been deflected. Niggardly interpretations have robbed those laws of much of their efficacy. There are exceptions...but when it comes to monopolies built in gentlemanly ways — by mergers, purchases of assets or control and the like — the teeth have largely been drawn from the act."

This is a political speech, not a judicial opinion. It is a dissent from the American philosophy of life throughout its history. It is an assertion of social democracy which has been ruining Europe for nearly half a century and is reaching a climax in the British failure. He says further:

"...The increased concentration of industrial power in the hands of a few has changed habits of thought. A new age has been introduced. It is more and more something new.

To make bubble gum more acceptable in the home, the industry has developed a quick-drying type that won't become enmeshed in rugs — that is, if it isn't stepped on while still wet. Naturally, the children resent this. It isn't so easy for them to stick used gum under the dining room table for future chewing.

"My own kids solve this by leaving the gum in a glass of water overnight," smiled Dr. Nafash. "It's very simple," said Dr. Nafash. "The kid's face gets in Nafash."

There has been concern voiced over the increasing size of the bubbles. Some parents have feared Junior might blow a bubble so large he'd be wafted aloft by a strong wind. Dr. Nafash says this is unlikely. "The largest bubble I ever heard of was only 12-inches in diameter, and that was blown in a championship contest. A bubble of eight to ten inches is very good for an amateur."

"It isn't probable that kids will ever blow bubbles much bigger than at the present, no matter how much we improve the elasticity of the gum."

Why? "It's very simple," said Dr. Nafash. "The kid's face gets in the way."

Diet and Health Help for Arthritis But No Known Cure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IT is no wonder that arthritis has been called the nation's No. 1 crippler. Recent estimates show that arthritis and related disorders, such as inflammation of the connective tissues, today affect about 7,500,000 people in the United States, or about one out of every twenty.

Though rarely fatal, arthritis is a serious problem because of the great amount of invalidism and crippling it causes. This is the more tragic in that at least half of its victims are under 45 years of age. The fact that so many are stricken during what should be the most productive years of life and robbed of their earning power, increases the suffering such patients must endure.

While no race, sex, or class is exempt from arthritis, it does seem to affect women more often than men, and the poor more frequently than the rich. Thus, the financial burden of the disease falls most heavily on those least able to bear it.

Although the cause of arthritis has not yet been determined, a number of things seem to play a part in its beginning. These include infections in the teeth, tonsils, and other parts of the body; improper diet; exposure to cold and wet; injuries, and constant strain and nervous tension.

The first symptoms of arthritis include pain, swelling, and stiffness in the joints. If these symptoms are allowed to progress, serious crippling and deformity may develop.

Since the cause of the condition is not known, it has been difficult to discover methods of treatment which would cure the disorder.

Proper Diet

There are methods, however, which, in many cases, can help to check the progress of arthritis. These include proper diet, rest, planned exercises of the joints, and various operative procedures which may be employed to correct deformities. Of course, any infection should be searched for and eliminated. Many drugs for relieving the pain of arthritis are available, but none of these seems to have any effect in checking the disease.

If we are ever to cut down the toll now taken by this crippling disease, we must have a much better understanding of its causes than we possess today. For this a great deal more research is necessary. To meet this need a Foundation for the Study of Arthritis has recently been established. It seeks not only to set up new research on this disease, but also to provide such treatment as we now have for those unable to afford it.

The Nation Today

By OVID A. MARTIN
(For James Marlow)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—(AP)—How far is the government obligated to go in carrying out farm price guarantee?

Do laws setting up mandatory price support programs require the government to see to it that every farmer gets at least the minimum guarantee for every bushel of his grain, every pound of his livestock and every dozen of his eggs?

This question bobbed up again this week after the agriculture department announced a material change in its program for supporting hog prices.

The department said in effect that from now on it will not attempt to assure any farmer the minimum price for any of his hogs. All it will do will be to try to keep the average of prices received by all farmers for all hogs from dropping below the support level.

Prior to this change the department had committed itself to maintain prices at all local markets at the price support level. Under this commitment individual farmers had fair assurance that they would get the guaranteed minimum.

Now about all the individual farmer can count on is a price in the neighborhood of the support level. It is not likely, officials said, that individual prices at the height of the winter marketing season will drop more than $1 below the prospective national support average of possibly $14.50 per 100 pounds.

While hog prices tend to hold a general level, local supply conditions as well as local and nearby demands for pork often vary. This variation could reflect itself in hog prices above support levels in some markets and below in others.

But as long as the average of the prices of the various markets is equal to or above the support level, the government will do nothing about it.

This change in the hog support program greatly reduces the possibility of extensive government buying of pork this fall and winter sure every farmer the guaranteed price for all his products.

In making the change at this time, the department opens the door to the contention that it is changing rules in the middle of the game. The argument can be made that the change should have been made before the farmers bred and raised the hogs to be sold under the new rules.

A&P Plans Fight For Anti-Trust Suit

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. today was preparing to fight the government's anti-trust suit "with every legitimate means," Richard Roush, the manager of the company's store on South Main Street here declared.

Roush based his statement on a communication from the company's central division headquarters in Pittsburgh.

The A. & P. charged, in its comment on the suit, that the government action is a "threat to the welfare and living standards of every American citizen."

In the company's statement made public by Roush, the claim was made that "this is just not an effort to destroy the A & P, but an attack on the entire system of efficient, low-cost, low-profit mass distribution which this company pioneered."

The company statement also said that A & P was the first chain store in this country and that the methods it developed have been adopted by other grocers as well as merchants in other lines.

There are today, the company pointed out, hundreds of chain stores and voluntary groups of individual merchants operating with the same methods and on the same pattern as that attacked by the government in its suit.

The company contends "there is nothing even approaching a monopoly" in the A. & P. operations. "The retail grocery business is the most competitive in the country, as every housewife knows, and we (the A & P) do only a small part of it," the company continued.

The statement cites that "there never was any charge that we (the A & P) raised prices; for the whole basis of this attack is that we sold good food too cheaply."

Annual Hybrid Day Thursday

Fifteen Varieties to Be Inspected

"The Annual Corn Hybrid Day for the county will be held Thursday on the Harold C. Mark and Son seed farm, Miami-Trace Road," County Agent W. W. Montgomery announced Monday.

Three different test plots containing 112 varieties have been run on the farm this year. Fifteen of these varieties in one test plot has been in cooperation with the Ohio Hybrid Seed Corn Producers, Croton. These varieties will be harvested in the forenoon and the results available to the farmers attending the events and program in the afternoon.

The inspection of variety tests and program is scheduled to start at 1:30 P. M. Different officers and members of the Ohio Seed Corn Producers Association will be on the program.

Since practically all the corn in Fayette County is hybrid, farmers will find this occasion one in which they can learn a great deal about the different hybrid as they show up on this particular farm.

Questions And Answers About Swimming Pool

Park Board Prepares Guide Sheets To Inform Public

Workers in the midst of a drive to raise funds to build a swimming pool in Washington C. H. have poised a few questions which the Washington Park Association, Inc. found the answers to sometime ago.

In an effort to better familiarize residents of Fayette County with some of the facts about the swimming pool the Park Board has prepared question and answer sheets which are available to anyone.

Listed below are the questions followed by the answers:

When will it be built?

The swimming pool is going to be built this year. It will be ready for use next year. The contract for the construction has been let and preliminary work has been started.

Facts on the fund drive:

(1) $70,000 is required for the swimming pool roadways, car parking areas, landscaping, park, filtration plant and other installations.

(2) Design and engineering for this modern pool is in the hands of a consulting engineer, who for 20 years has been the leader in Ohio in swimming pool design.

(3) Gifts have been exceptionally generous to date. The chance for you to give is now. The general drive lasts through Sept. 30.

Where will it be located?

The pool will be located in the beautiful natural setting of what is known as Perry's Park on Oakland Avenue. It is now called Washington Park.

What is the Washington Park Association, Inc.?

The Washington Park Association is a non-profit corporation created by local citizens for the purpose of providing a park and swimming pool for this community. A board of trustees will operate the pool and park for the membership on a non-profit basis.

Public or private project?

This project is semi-private and is financed entirely by contributions. No government, public funds or public property is involved.

What is the membership plan for operation?

The pool and park will be operated on a membership basis. Only members and their guests will be eligible to use the pool facilities. A survey of many pools revealed that those operated on a membership basis are more popular and successful than those functioning under any other type of operation.

What will membership dues be?

Will annual membership dues be low enough for families and individuals of moderate means? Yes! Dues will only be sufficient to take care of necessary upkeep and to provide lifeguards and supervisory personnel.

Is pool a good investment?

It is a well-known fact that swimming pools build sound community values. Their character building value is outstanding. They provide family recreation at its best. Real estate values are affected favorably. The community as a whole is looked upon with greater favor as the type which builds constructively. The success of this pool means much to the future of our youth.

League of Women Voters Heard Dr. Pfersick, Speaker At September Meeting

Mrs. Ralph Penn was a gracious hostess to the League of Women Voters of Fayette County on Monday afternoon, for one of the most worthwhile meetings in the history of the League.

Mrs. Jean S. Nisley, the president, presided and launched the coming year's program with the "Voters' Service" which, since 1928, has been used to give a balanced view of campaign issues — "to present all sides and promote none." She stated that while the League is strictly non-partisan and endorses no party and no candidate, it urges its members, as individuals, to work within the party of their choice, and to become candidates for office, thereby forwarding democracy and good government.

As a part of the "Voters' Service" Mrs. Nisley talked at length on the coming election on November 8, and the issues at stake in Fayette County and in Ohio. On the local scene she named the offices to be filled and the respective candidates. On the side of the state she named the two amendments to be voted and explained the League's stand on margarine and the Massachusetts form of ballot. The president also stated that the League's agenda for the year includes a study of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, a study of housing for low income groups, and urban redevelopment (slum clearance).

Miss Agnes Kerrigan, the League's secretary, read the Constitution and By-Laws to which the League voted an amendment.

The high point of the meeting was the long-to-be-remembered talk given by Dr. Charles M. Pfersick on Socialized Medicine who gave, as a background, the experiences of Germany and France, which countries discarded the plan, and the sufferings of England and New Zealand, now within its grasp.

The National League of Women Voters, as yet, has taken no stand on Federal Health Insurance and Socialized Medicine, and the individual members of the League, after the meeting, expressed their

Mother's Circle Members Open Fall Meetings With Lovely Tea At Rife Home

The Mothers' Circle members resumed their activities for the calendar year on Monday afternoon when Mrs. Marion Rife extended the hospitality of her attractive home at Cedarhurst for the annual tea. Lovely fall flowers were used at vantage points throughout the rooms for the occasion.

Mrs. M. Grove Davis, president, presided over the business session. Following the usual reports, Mrs. Otis Core, program chairman for the year, outlined the special events planned for each meeting and announced that an informal dance for members and their husbands would be held in October. Mrs. Wm. Lovell, finance chairman, led in a lengthy discussion by the thirty-five members present, on ways and means of replenishing the Circle treasury.

Mrs. John Morehouse, program chairman for the afternoon, presented Mrs. Leland Stevens who in turn announced five of her pupils, Ronnie and Billie Huff, Ann, David and Alice Craig, in clever recitations which delighted the members.

A social hour followed and the members and guests were invited to a beautifully appointed tea table, lace cloth covered, with a central floral adornment of a water-garden filled with rust, yellow and white pom chrysanthemums sentinelled with yellow tapers. The silver service at either

Do You Want Your A&P Put Out Of Business?

Last Thursday in New York, the anti-trust lawyers from Washington filed a suit to put A&P out of business.

They asked the court to order us to get rid of most of our stores and also the manufacturing facilities which supply you with A&P coffee, Ann Page products, Jane Parker baked goods, and other quality items we produce.

This would mean higher food prices for you. It would mean less food on every dinner table and fewer dollars in every pay envelope.

It would mean the end of A&P as you know it.

This poses a basic question for the American people: Do they want to continue to enjoy lower prices and better living? Or do they want to break up A&P and pay higher prices, and have lower living standards?

What do you want?

Why Destroy A&P?

This suit was brought under the anti-trust laws. These are good laws. They were passed about fifty years ago to prevent any company, or any group of companies, from getting a monopoly in a field and then raising prices to the public.

A&P has never done any of these things.

Nobody has ever shown that we have anything even approaching a monopoly of the food business anywhere. As every housewife knows, the retail grocery business is the most competitive in the country and we do only a small part of it. Nobody has ever said we charged too high prices — just the opposite. This whole attack rises out of the fact that we sell good food too cheap. We would not have had any of this trouble if, instead of lowering prices, we had raised them and pocketed the difference.

Nobody has ever said that our profit rate was too high. During the past five years our net profit, after taxes, has averaged about 1 1/4% on every dollar of sales, which is less than almost any other business you can think of.

The American people have shown that they like our low-price policy by coming to our stores to do their shopping. If A&P is big, it is because the American people, by their patronage, have made it big.

Obviously, it is the theory of the anti-trust lawyers that the people have no right to patronize a company, if their patronage will make that company grow; and that any big business must be destroyed simply because it is big, and even if the public gets hurt in the process.

Do You Want Higher Prices?

There is much more involved in this case than the future of A&P. The entire American system of efficient, low-cost, low-profit distribution which we pioneered, will face destruction and the public will suffer.

A&P was the first chain store in this country. For more than ninety years we have tried to build a sound business on the simple formula the founder gave us: "Give the people the most good food you can for their money." Year after year we have tried to do a better job, make our business more efficient, and pass the savings on to the consumer in the form of lower prices.

Our efforts along these lines have led other grocers to keep their costs and profits down.

In the old days before A&P, food that cost the grocer 50¢, often sold as high as $1.00 at retail.

Today, food that costs the grocer 50¢ generally sells to the public at less than 60¢.

The methods we pioneered have been adopted not only by other grocers, but by merchants in other lines. There are today literally hundreds of chain stores, voluntary groups and individual merchants operating with the same methods and in the same pattern here under attack.

If the anti-trust lawyers succeed in destroying A&P, the way will be clear for the destruction of every other efficient large-scale distributor.

Who Will Be Hurt?

There has never been any question in our mind that it is good business and good citizenship to sell good food as cheaply as possible. As Fortune Magazine said about A&P some time ago, "It is firmly attached to the one great principle — the selling of more for less — that has made the desert bloom and the nation wax great."

We sincerely believe that we have helped the American people eat better and live better.

We believe that the hundreds of thousands of farmers and manufacturers who have voluntarily sought our business have profited by our fast, low-cost distribution of their products.

We know that our 110,000 loyal employees enjoy today, as they always have, the highest wages, shortest hours and best working conditions generally prevailing in the retail food industry; and that these men and women have found in A&P good opportunities for security and progress.

We know that thousands of businessmen — the landlords who rent us our stores, the haulers who operate our trucks, the people who supply us with goods and services — have a big stake in our operations.

Obviously, all these people will suffer if this company is put out of business.

What Shall We Do?

We admit that the interests of the owners of A&P are of little importance.

Frankly, they could make an enormous amount of money by breaking up A&P, as the anti-trust lawyers wish, and selling off the parts.

But is this what the American people want? Do they agree with the anti-trust lawyers that our food prices are too low, and that we should be put out of the picture so other grocers can charge more?

Frankly, if this were the case, we would not want to continue in business.

But we seriously doubt that this is the case. Twelve years ago, an effort was made to tax this company and other chain stores out of business. The public rallied to our support. They said they liked our quality foods and our low prices. As a result of their opposition, the tax was defeated.

Now we are faced with this new attack through the courts. We are faced with the heavy costs and all the trouble that lawsuits involve.

But we believe this attack is a threat to millions of consumers who rely on us for quality foods at low prices; to farmers who rely on us for fast, low-cost distribution of their products; and to our loyal employees.

We feel that it is our responsibility to all these people to defend, by every legitimate means, this company and the low-price policy on which it was built.

Another Scrimmage Is Planned for Bucks

COLUMBUS, Sept. 20.—(P)—Ohio State's football team must run through another contact scrimmage tomorrow to show its coaching staff it's sharp enough for the Missouri game Saturday.

The Bucks' somewhat dismal showing in last Saturday's drill brought about the scheduling of the scrimmage in the middle of a week ordinarily devoted to tapering off for the season's first opponent.

But, Coach Wes Fesler told his charges Wednesday's scrimmage would go only five minutes if they could prove in that brief period they're on the beam.

All the Bucks are expected to be in shape for the Missouri game, barring accidents tomorrow, except for Ralph Armstrong, reserve left end, who has a shoulder injury.

A two-hour practice is scheduled today, a 90-minute drill tomorrow, a one-hour workout Thursday and nothing Friday.

Browns Not for Sale

CLEVELAND, Sept. 20.—(P)—Coach Paul Brown said today that Ollman Glenn McCarthy of Houston, Tex., tried to buy the franchise of the Cleveland Browns football team and move it to Houston. Brown added: "The team is not for sale."

Bowling Season Opens Here with 11 Leagues

Bowling got off to a rattling good start here Monday night when the first two of the 11 leagues set up for the season started blasting the pins at Bowland.

Before the snow flies, more than 1,000 men and women will be participating actively in the sport, the major winter activity of the community.

The lid was knocked off the season with a resounding rumble of rolling balls and the clatter of pins by the Fraternal League.

The eight-team loop took the alleys at 7 P. M. As soon as they finished, the Ladies League took over for three games.

Two teams of the Fraternal League emerged with clean sweeps of their matches. The Country Clubbers, sparked by Carman, who racked up 519 in three games, took all three games from the Universals and the Elks, with Emrum Lynch setting the pace with a $29 total, whitewashed the Rotarians.

In the other games, the Mt. Sterling Boosters beat the Record-Herald outfit in two games out of three but held only a single pin margin in total pins and the Sabina Moose took the last two games from the Lions after dropping the opener.

Now that bowling has started, there will not be an idle day at

With five regulars and a couple of substitutes on each of the eight teams in the ten leagues, the total number of bowlers crowds the 1,000 mark.

Until Nov. 25, only nine loops will be operation. After that there will be two more come in. The All Star League, which has its roster all set up, and another loop of eight teams which has not yet decided on its name, are marking time until after the football season because they have been assigned Friday nights on the alleys.

Here is the way the leagues stack up, the league listed first takes the alleys first at 7 P. M.

Wednesday Commercial
Thursday Implement
Friday Ladies
Saturday Merchants

The Grange League, which was formed within the farm organization, will place teams made up of both men and women on the alleys.

Cardinal Lead Cut by Dodgers

Yankees Stretch Lead of Bosox

By WILL GRIMSLEY
(By the Associated Press)

Brooklyn's "B" twins—Ralph Branca and Rex Barney—have hit their old stride again and the Dodgers' pitching staff appears at peak strength for the stretch run in the tight National League pennant race.

This is discomfiting news for the St. Louis Cardinals, who saw their lead chopped to a game and a half last night and who have a three-game series with the pursuing Dodgers coming up tomorrow.

Branca and Barney, the erratic roommates who fell short of the 20-game victory marks predicted for them in the spring, may play a big role in the important St. Louis stand.

Both fashioned notable conquests the last couple of days over the Chicago Cubs. Manager Burt Shotton, who has used them spasmodically, indicates they can expect regular work here on out.

Barney At His Best
Barney turned in one of the best pitched games of the season yesterday in shutting out the Cubs on one hit, 4-0. He faced only 28 men, none reached second and the only blow off him was Phil Cavaretta's single opening the eighth.

It was his eighth victory against eight defeats but a vital one for the Dodgers.

A few hours later the Cardinals ran afoul a couple of Philadelphia rookies and lost to the Phillies, 4-3, to have their advantage whittled to 1 1-2 games.

This adds new pressure to the Dodger-Cardinal series opening with a day-night doubleheader in St. Louis tomorrow.

While the National League was growing tighter, the American began to loosen up a bit. The New York Yankees increased their lead to three full games over the idle Boston Red Sox by trimming Cleveland, 6-0.

It was the fourth straight triumph over the first division foes for the Yankees and their ninth victory in the last ten games. They're not giving quarter.

Lefty E. Lopat pitched a five-hitter in shutting out the Indians, recording his 15th victory of the season. Bob Feller was Cleveland's losing hurler.

Rookies John (Jocko) Thompson and Ed Sanicki were the Phillies who joined the Cardinals. Thompson, a 29-year-old left-hander, held the Cards scoreless.

Kiner, however, is still behind the major league record pace of Babe Ruth, who poled 60 homers in 1927 for the New York Yankees.

Kiner's home run against the New York Giants was made in his 143rd game with 11 to play.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner hit his 50th home run last night to go ahead of the pace set by Hack Wilson when he established the National League record of 56 in 1930.

WHS Lions Given 'Full Treatment' In Workout

The WHS squad is getting the "full treatment" this week in preparation for the Gardner Park opener with Jackson this Friday.

Smarting from last Friday's defeat at the hands of Linden-McKinley, the Lions went through a hard, rough scrimmage Monday.

Coach Fred Pierson had a chalk talk and the gridders talked over their mistakes and were briefed on a few Jackson plays.

Pierson said that the errors discussed from the Columbus affair were about tackling and misassignments on passes.

"We'll be concentrating on offensive play in the Tuesday practice," said Pierson, "and on Wednesday we'll turn to the defense."

He indicated quite clearly that the blue and white footballers are in for their roughest training week to date.

Assistant Coach Ronald Guinn scouted Jackson's 32-6 romp over Greenfield McClain on Friday and his findings will determine the special preparations made by the WHS team these next few days for the battle.

Pierson pointed out that the Jackson boys were "big and rough," but seemed satisfied with Guinn's information.

The head coach plans to have Aikire and Aleshire flipping the passes in this week's scrimmages.

Warren Spahn turned in his 19th pitching victory for the Braves in the game at Cincinnati which was a replay of the previous day's 1-1 tie.

The only other game in the American League saw the Philadelphia Athletics push over three runs in the eighth to subdue the St. Louis Browns, 7-4. Dick Fowler won his 14th game of the season, going all the way.

Warren Huey, regular end on four Spartan football teams, has been appointed to the Michigan State physical education staff.

THIS MULE-HIDE ROOF OUTLASTED TWO OTHERS!

24 years ago, D. F. Falconer of Evanston, Ill., put MULE-HIDE shingles on his home. Through pounding of wind and weather, these shingles stayed sturdy as new—the roof never leaked, though his neighbors on each side had to replace their roofs twice! Life of an asphalt shingle cannot be judged by appearance alone—quality is proved on the roof!

Drakes Eliminated By Neff No-Hitter

The Drakes were set down without a hit by Paul Neff of Greenfield Moore's and eliminated from the Greenfield tournament Monday night, 2-0.

Joe Drake gave up just three hits as the Moore's won the games on two unearned runs.

The Moore's got one hit in each of the first three innings. Their first tally came in the second on one hit and two errors. The second run was scored in the third on a hit and an error.

Only one Drake got on base. Pierce, rightfielder, was hit by a pitched ball in the fourth frame and was finally stranded in third-base.

The Drakes had a 1-1 record in the tourney going into Monday's fray.

Francis Ouimet won his first U. S. amateur golf title in 1914 at the age of 21 and his second 17 years later.

Big Turnout Is Expected For Fall Festival

Favorable Weather Is In Offing For New Holland Celebration

A "big turnout" was expected Tuesday night for the opening of the annual Fall Festival in New Holland, according to Robert Bush, president of the Chamber of Commerce there.

Bush said favorable weather may get the festival off to a good start.

He said five rides of the W. S. Curl Amusement Company have already been set up on the "main drag" in New Holland and everything put in readiness for the festival opening.

Traffic along U.S. Route 22 will be routed around the community. Streets will be blocked off to make way for hundreds of festival visitors.

Stores will remain open at night throughout the festival, to extend through next Saturday night. Carnival rides will remain open until about 11:30 o'clock each evening.

The following bands will play on the nights listed: McClain High School band from Greenfield, Wednesday night; Circleville High School band, Thursday night, and the Adelphi Community band, Friday.

Joint sponsors of the gala affair are the New Holland Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion post in that community.

The American Legion will use proceeds of the festival to help pay the expenses of decorating and renovating the American Legion Hall.

The Chamber of Commerce will use its share of the festival proceeds to sponsor a Christmas party for needy children.

Group Looks For New Minister

May Ask One or More To Presbyterian Church

Members of a pulpit committee, selected to help pick a new minister for the First Presbyterian Church, reported at a meeting held Monday night that they visited four different churches in Ohio last Sunday.

The committee reportedly was very happy with the ministers they heard and are seriously considering asking "one or more" of the four to fill the pulpit here, on a temporary basis.

O. D. Farquhar, chairman of the committee, said the minister or ministers selected would each fill the pulpit for only one Sunday.

This would give the congregation an opportunity to look the minister over and determine who they wanted on a permanent basis to fill the position vacated when Rev. John K. Abernethy resigned to take a post in Coshocton.

There were 15 members of the First Presbyterian Church here who visited four different churches in Ohio last Sunday. They split up into four delegations for the purpose.

Monday night there were 12 members of the pulpit committee on hand to hear the reports.
